JOB POSTING

Editorial intern for political affairs magazine

Beyond the Hill magazine, the official publication of the Canadian Association of Former Parliamentarians, is looking for editorial interns to pitch, write and edit stories. The magazine focuses on policies, parliamentary affairs and profiles of former MPs and Senators.

As editorial intern at Beyond the Hill your internship would be from July 2021 to the end of July 2022. During this time your duties will be:

- Contribute to two issues of the magazine;
- Meet deadlines set by the editor;
- Write stories for the magazine as assigned by the editor;
- Take pictures for the magazine and see that photographs accompany each article and that any required permissions are obtained for photos not taken personally;
- Attend meetings as deemed necessary by the editor and post about said events via social media;
- Attend and report on important association events like the CAFP Annual General Meeting, and other events as required;
- Stay in touch with the editor to ensure timely publication of the magazine;
- Under the direction of the Editor, assist in updating information on the CAFP website and social media.

For your work you will be given remuneration $600 per issue published during your tenure.

To apply, please send a cover letter, resumé with one reference and one example of your work (500 words).

The topic is: An essay making the case for first past the post voting.

Please send your essays to exparl@parl.gc.ca, by June 30, 2021.
